Zone Capital Partners Names Keith Sazer to Advisory Board

Maanav Nanda, CFA Joins the Zone Capital Partners Team as Managing Director

Dana Point, CA, September 14, 2017:

Zone Capital Partners, LLC, a boutique consulting firm focused on Small Cap companies and based in Orange County, CA, has named Keith Sazer to their Advisory Board. Mr. Sazer is Founder and CEO of Addison Churchill, a private FX trading firm. He is the chief strategist designing automated trading models using behavioral finance trading principles.

"I'm elated to formalize my relationship with Zone Capital Partners. I was fortunate to meet ZCP founder Ira Miller around 2009. Our prior business opportunities led to numerous successful engagements and a sincere friendship. I look forward to advising ZCP as it expands its footprint into M&A," commented Keith Sazer upon the announcement.

Mr. Sazer is a graduate of Boston University with a major in Finance and has obtained his Series 7, 55, 63, and 3 licenses. He began trading equities at Madison Trading LLC where he opened and managed Madison Trading's Forex desk. He later moved on to open Radiant Capital Advisors (RCA) where he built a platform of 8-10 managers and offered Forex money management globally.

Zone Capital Partners, LLC is also pleased to announce that, Maanav Nanda, CFA, has joined the firm as Managing Director. Maanav will focus his energy on growing ZCP's reach in the healthcare, real estate, and technology sectors.

Mr. Nanda attended the University of California San Diego, graduating with a bachelor's degree in management science. He is also a Chartered Financial Analyst with an extensive background in investment banking and corporate/business development.

"We are fortunate to have added significant talent to our firm that will help us grow our reach in New York and on the West Coast", stated Ira W. Miller, the Founder and CEO of the firm.
